Do You Qualify?

Are you eligible?

You may qualify for Social Security disability benefits if you have worked and paid FICA taxes, and have a medical condition that meets Social Security’s definition of disability. The chart below shows Social Security’s five-step process to determine if an individual qualifies for benefits. Ask yourself the questions to determine if you qualify.

	Yes	No
1. Are you working?	And are you earning more than $1,040 a month?	Answer next question
2. Does your disability significantly limit your ability to perform basic work activities?	Answer next question
3. Is your disability on the list of conditions that qualify?	Answer next question	You may be eligible. Go to next question.
4. Does your disability prevent you from performing work you’ve done in the past?	Answer next question
5. Are you qualified to do other types of work?		You are likely eligible for Social Security Disability Benefits
